by Bernadette Andrew

The Reading Club is winding down for the year. At our August 10th meeting, we surpassed the 750-book goal and each participant who had contributed at least one book was invited to banana split party. The banana splits will be served at the Back-to-School Potluck. Be sure to bring your coupon that you received in the mail. For those of you who didn't join the Summer Reading Club and earn a free banana split, you are not out of luck. You can buy one for $2.00.

As of our August 24th meeting, our 28 participants had read 58,093 pages in 964 books. The bookworms are taking over the RecHall. If you haven't seen them lately, stop by and see them.

In the running for individual awards:

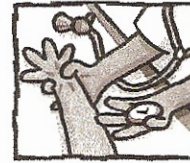

Most books
0 to 4	Shaun Andrew	194
5 to 8	Shayna Nelson	101
9 to 18	AlexAnna Salmon	58

By the time you read this, the 1998 Summer Reading Club will have concluded for the year. Look in next month's newsletter for the final numbers and award winners.

Have you checked your oil level lately? Be sure to do so if you haven't as winter is fast approaching and you don't want to run out. It is hard on the Toyostove's and hot water monitors when they run out of oil and draw air.

If you have any waste oil, please put it in a covered container. For now, put it in the white shed at the dump. We will let you know as soon as a permanent station for waste oil deposits is ready.

Dr. Powers is scheduled to be in Igiugig this month. Watch for the date to be posted.

School News

by Sandra Alvarez

School startson Tuesday, September 1st! Kids need to show up ready to work at 8:30am (just like usual). Parents need to be sure their children are well rested, well fed and ready to take off learning again. Younger students will be dismissed at 2:45pm followed by the rest of the students at 3:00pm.

The first event of the year will be a Back-to-School Informational Potluck. This will be at 6:00pm on Friday, September 4th. Everyone can plan on bringing a main dish and either a dessert or a salad. Mrs. Thurston will take some time before we eat to give information to parents and students about classroom activities, school news and other things. This will be a good time for people to bring up the things you have questions about and to make any suggestions you may have.

Preschool News

by Bernadette Andrew

Preschool will begin on Tuesday, September 8th from 12:30pm to 2:00pm. This year preschool will meet three days per week, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday. It will be held at the school. Because it is tribally funded, the village council will allow two year olds to attend as well. Parents should be sure their child attends as regularly as possible for planning purposes. Look for more information in the mail this week or contact the Village Council office.
